LOOK FOR COMMUNISTS TO SWITCH TACTICS

Right now is a good time for the country to be alert for a possible shift in domestic Communist tactics. For the elections results dictate a radical change in party strategy.

The Reds took a bad beating in Henry Wallace's trifling vote, since he ran on a substantially Communist platform. His defeat repudiated the apologists for Soviet aggression, and clearly indicated the meager opposition in this country to European aid and other instruments of our bipartisan foreign policy.

Now, if their past practices are any guide, the Communists will drop Mr. Wallace, and fast. The party has no sympathy with failure. It pays off on results, not effort. Mr. Wallace may try to keep his party going, but it will probably have to go along without the Moscow-directed brethren.

A Republican president and Congress might have impelled the far left to stick with the third party and yell against "reaction." But Mr. Truman, campaigning and winning on a New Deal platform, gave the comrades some new problems in the fields of politics and labor.

A tip-off on the next switch in party line might be found in the post-election claims of Mr. Wallace. He now says that his party "forced the Democrats to don the mantle of Roosevelt and to promise the American people a return to the New Deal." This might mean that the Communists will try to drift back into the party they supported during the war—even though they get rid of Mr. Wallace en route.

If they do they will find that Mr. Truman, in spite of his "red herring" campaign speeches, is unsympathetic toward domestic as well as foreign communism. Nor will they get much comfort out of Congress, no matter who controls it. But, in the field of labor, there may be one grain of comfort for them in the Democratic victory. For the new Congress is pretty sure to throw out at least part of the Taft-Hartley Law—including, perhaps, the section requiring non-Communist affidavits from union officers.

This would turn the federal spotlight off the Communists and pro-Communists in labor. Working once more in semi-darkness they would likely try to regain some of the power they lost when the light and heat were on.

We should imagine that the Communists will work quietly for a time. They have said a lot about all they can against the Marshall Plan. Now they may get orders to button their lips, concentrate on domestic objectives, put on democratic disguises and once again make noises like good New Dealers.

But we may well be wary of any show of moderation and co-operation. The comrades put no high value on honesty. Nor is consistency a jewel in the Communist diadem. The Reds have been for Hitler and against him, anti-Roosevelt and pro-Roosevelt, foes of capitalism and co-operators with capitalism. They can just as easily be pro-Marshall Plan if it suits their purpose. So it behooves the rest of us to keep our eyes open and not be fooled.

Local Y.M.C.A. Secures New General Secretary

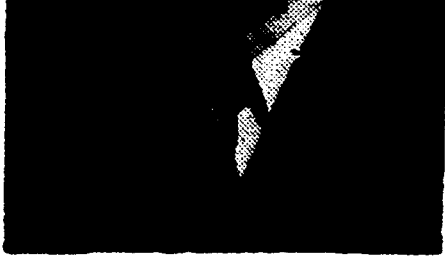

Paul T. Hartman of Massillon, Ohio, has accepted the position of general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., according to announcement made Wednesday by Waldo McCreery, chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Hartman succeeds Wilson C. Jansen, who resigned this fall. His selection as secretary was made by the Y.M.C.A. board committee, comprised of Charles V. Wright, chairman, Bill Clark, Harry Hammett, Dr. C. P. McClelland and W. O. Randall.

Mr. Hartman was graduated from North Central college in 1937. He is a veteran of World War II, having served on the Swedish liner, Gripsholm, a prisoner of war exchange ship.

Has Worked With Boys
Following his discharge, Mr. Hartman resumed his work with the Y.M.C.A. as boys work secretary in Massillon, O., which position he has continued to hold. He has also worked with the Y.M.C.A. in Streator, Ill., and in Jackson, Mich.

During a personal interview which took place recently in this city, Mr. Hartman commented favorably on the new "Y" equipment and the enthusiastic response of those associated with the Youth Center.

PAUL T. HARTMAN

Highly recommended by both the national and area Y.M.C.A. offices, Mr. Hartman will assume his duties as secretary of the "Y" on Jan. 10. He will move to this city with his

Portable X-Ray Unit To Return To Cass County

The portable X-Ray unit used in taking larger pictures, will be at the Cass County Court House in Virginia Thursday Nov. 18, from 1 to 5 p. m. The x-ray machine will be in Judge R. B. Rohrer's office on that day to take pictures of those who have been notified to come in on that day.

Approximately 75 letters were sent out from the State Department of Public Health notifying certain residents of Cass county that the small pictures were not satisfactory to them and they wished to make another and larger x-ray which would enable the Department to make an accurate report.

A Simple Key To The United Nations

By Hal Boyle

Are you hep to what is going on in the United Nations? Can you astonish your friends with your easy command of diplomatic terms?

Do people who used to laugh when you sat down at the piano now hold back their hoots until you try to pronounce plenipotentiary?

Well, there is a way to end all that. No longer need you babble with the rabble about simple subjects like baseball, the structure of the atom, or the eternal whether about the weather.

You, too, can talk about the United Nations, the most thrilling story of our times. You, too, can be the life of the party as you hold your listeners spellbound with fluent words that beset a one-world government.

Understanding the United Nations is as simple as A-B-C. Or, rather, it is as simple as learning your ABC's all over again—and backwards.

To help pierce the fog of phrases and phrases that erupt from the U. N. sessions you merely need a dictionary of the new diplomatic language generated there.

Somewhere lost in every group of words used by the statesmen is a meaning—something someone is trying to say. The words only need to be translated to be understood. So herewith is presented a glossary of the more common phrases employed at the United Nations which should make its debates crystal clear to everybody.

Truce—Something which is stranger than friction.

Sovereignty—A thing every nation thinks ever other nation except itself ought to give up.

Veto—A device with five handles for getting rid of hot potatoes without loss of dignity.

Negotiations—A type of conference known in baseball as "a rhabarb."

Block—A group of dissident nations whose leader is known to the other side as a "bloc-head."

Peace—This is what all the fighting is about.

Russian Glossary
The foregoing are general terms. There follows a strictly Russian glossary:

War monger—A nation that won't tell you how to make an atom bomb.

Monger—One who mongs. An insane man you can't sell on the idea he is entirely wrong and you are entirely right.

Petty bourgeois—One who has three meals a day—and enjoys them.

Bourgeois—One who could afford to eat four meals a day if he wanted to.

Fascist obstructionist—A guy who wants to vote in private.

Trotskyite obstructionist—Any Russian who left Russia except on a government expense account.

Rightist obstructionist—A right-handed Trotskyite.

Leftist obstructionist—A search fails to reveal this term exists in the Russian language of today.

Professors From MacMurray Speak At Church Series

Two MacMurray college professors, Dr. W. S. Dysinger and Paul Rowland, are guest speakers for the annual "University of Life" series now being conducted at the First Methodist church of Pittsfield.

Meeting on eight successive Sunday evenings, the series extends this year from October 19 to December 5.

The "University" is often attended by as many as 300 people. The crowd assembles at 6 p. m. for a supper, followed by group singing in the church gymnasium and assembly hall: at 7 p. m. the group divides into three sections, children, youths and adults, and at 8 p. m. all reassemble for a worship service.

For the past three years MacMurray professors have addressed the adults. The subjects discussed are not necessarily religious, but more often are of broad common interest. Dr. Dysinger, who spoke the first four Sundays, chose as his general topic "Mental Hygiene in the Home," which he presented under four specific heads: "State of Mental Hygiene in the Home," "Circular Disorders," "Expression of Repression," and "Conflict."

Mr. Rowland's overall subject is "International Relations," his specific topics being "Toward Understanding the Russian People," "Soviet Communism Bids for the World," "American Colleges in the Near East" (with colored slides), and "America's Stake in the Orient."

Home Bureau Unit Meets At Home Of Mrs. H. Henderson

The Progressive Unit of Morgan County Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Harold Henderson, with 29 members and four guests present.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America." The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and roll call was answered by the showing of hand-made Christmas gifts.

The appointments of chairmen of the various standing committees were made. The new unit chairman is Mrs. Harold Henderson; vice-chairman, Mrs. Alvin Unland; and secretary, Mrs. Albert Telling.

A report of the advisory committee meeting was made by Mrs. Henderson. It was decided to have a special meeting at the Methodist church on Nov. 30 for instruction in textile painting and glass etching.

The major lesson, "Selection and Care of Silverware," was given by the Home Advisor, Mrs. Mildred Seaman. "Bound Button-Holes," the minor lesson, was given by Mrs. Harry Lefener.

The December meeting will be held at the Lutheran Parish hall on Dec. 15 at 11 a. m., and will include a covered dish luncheon, Christmas party, and gift exchange. Hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Wegehoff, Mrs. Deena Schroeder, and Mrs. Albert Telling.

Baraca-Philathea Class Holds 21st Annual Banquet

The 21st annual joint Baraca-Philathea Sunday school class banquet was held at Central Christian church, with the Mary Dewees Philathea class of that church as the hostess class. About 100 members from Grace Methodist church and the First Baptist church of Jacksonville, and the Presbyterian church of Virginia, Ill., were present.

The invocation was given by Dr. Frank Marston, after which group singing of Baraca-Philathea class and convention songs was led by Rev. Roy S. Hulian.

Miss Pearl Allison, president of the Mary Dewees class, gave the welcome address and introduced Miss Blanche Spall as toastmistress. Miss Spall presented the state officers who were present: Kenneth Gill, president; Mrs. Catherine Rowe, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Esther Hughes, 2nd vice-president; and Miss Winifred Ferne Taylor, secretary.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Marston and Rev. and Mrs. Roy Hulian were then introduced to the assembly, and the teachers, assistant teachers, and various classes recognized.

Three accordion solos were presented by Ruel Becker. Reports from the World-Wide Baraca-Philathea convention which was held at Winona Lake, Ind., Christian Assembly grounds from June 23-27 were given by Mrs. Lena Kearns and Miss Maybelle Parrott. Two readings, "The Waltz" and "Postures on Parade," were given by Miss Joanne Winstead. "There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere" was sung by Miss Elizabeth Newberry, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Ann Hayes.

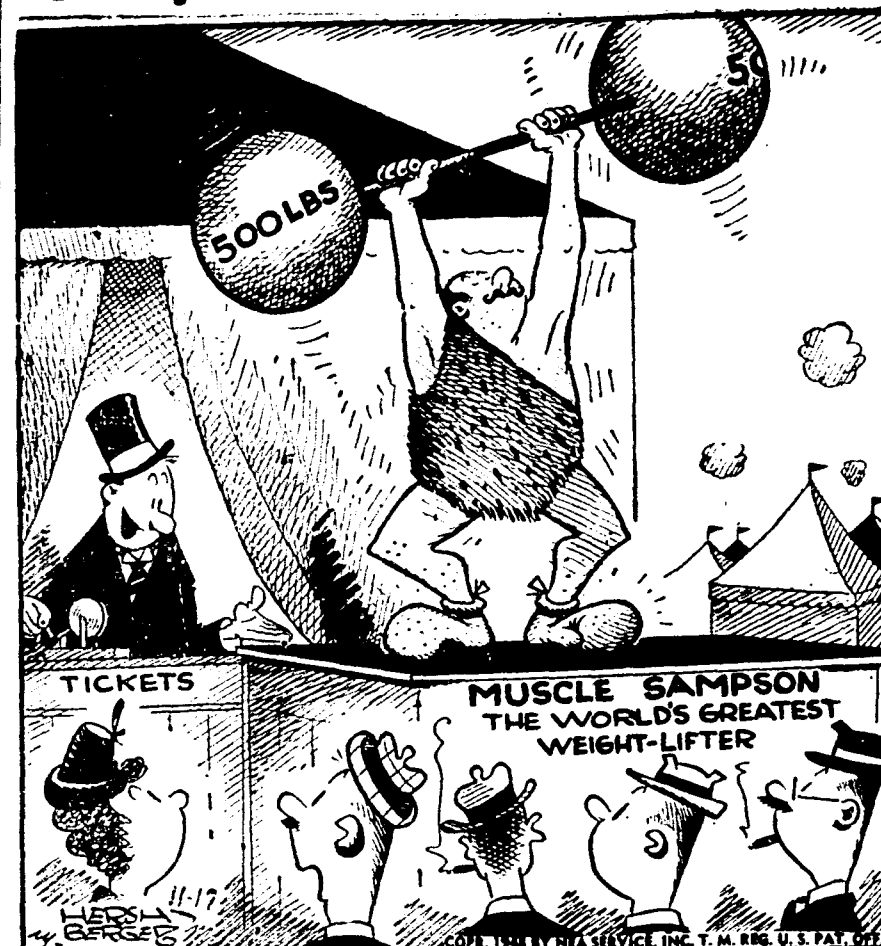

Miss Delores Reynolds and Miss Jerry Wood, two of the three young ladies sponsored by the Mary Dewees class to attend the World-Wide convention, gave brief talks telling of the impressions of their first Baraca-Philathea convention. Kenneth Gill, state president and featured speaker of the evening, presented an address entitled "What Does Baraca-Philathea Mean To Me?"

At the close of the meeting the benediction was given by Rev. Hulian. Group 4 of the Woman's Council of Central Christian church officiated at the serving of the banquet.

Syphilis broke out in epidemic form in Europe at the end of the 15th century, but it was only tardily recognized as a venereal disease.

Bids On Contracts For Improving Highways Opened

The state highway division at Springfield opened bids on projects totaling $5,867,904. Subject to final checking, the low bids included a project in Morgan county calling for the laying of four and one half miles of concrete surface on Federal Air Route 164, project 612 near Woodson. The low bidder on this project was Cameron Joyce & Co., of Keokuk, Iowa, the firm submitted a bid of $473,179.

The Woodson project calls for the laying of a concrete slab from the curve north of Woodson to a point east of Murreysville.

When this slab has been laid the hard surface road between Jacksonville and a point south of Greenfield will be complete.

Eventually the road will be connected with Route 111, south of Medora.

Work on the Woodson project will probably not start until next spring, although some culvert pipe might be put in place during the winter. All grading has been completed and bridges over the Alton tracks at Woodson and over the Alton line northeast of Murreysville have been completed.

Ways to Save

If you were a native of Siam, you would save cowry shells, but you would need a large space in which to keep them. Five dollars worth of shells would weigh over 200 pounds. If you wanted to hire porters to carry your "wealth" you would find that at the end of 150 miles you would owe the entire amount, and more too, to your porters.

It's hard to save in Siam... but it's a pleasure in Jacksonville, and profitable as well. Jacksonville Savings & Loan Association welcomes your savings, in large or small amounts, and pays you a profit for being thrifty. Stop in and let us explain.

SOIL-CEMENT

today's biggest value for light-traffic streets

SOIL CEMENT makes taxpayers' dollars go farther because about 90 per cent of the required material is usually native soil on the site. It's easy to transform high-maintenance cost streets into strong, long-lasting pavement good for years of all-weather service with soil-cement.

Soil-cement's superior value and durability for light-traffic streets is thoroughly established. More than 46,000,000 square yards of such paving are now in service in the U. S.

It's Your Fight, Too!

Bing Crowley was "beefing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is

Funeral Services Held Wednesday For Delbert Norton

Versailles — Funeral services for Delbert W. Norton, 23, were held at the Tarrant Funeral Home here Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. H. R. Coulter officiating.

Norton, formerly of Versailles, committed suicide Sunday night at the home of his employer, Charles Henry at Talono, near Quincy.

According to testimony at an inquest, Norton, who had been dependent for several weeks, went to his employer's home Sunday night while Mr. and Mrs. Henry were on a trip to Arkansas. He went to the basement and turned on the lights. Monday morning, Harvey Dittmer, another employee of Mr. Henry, noticing the light burning in the basement went to investigate. He found Norton's body with a 12 gauge shotgun nearby. Norton had shot himself through the heart.

Norton is survived by his widow and two sons, Terry, aged four and Ricky, age five months. He also leaves his mother, Mrs. O. R. Hills of near Versailles; two brothers Harry and Warren Norton of near Versailles and a sister, Mrs. Geneva McCoy of Mt. Sterling.

Annual Banquet Held By Business School

The annual student-alumni banquet of Hardin Brown Business college was held Tuesday evening at the Dunlap hotel, with 102 students, graduates and special guests present.

The assembly was welcomed by President D. L. Hardin, who also introduced those seated at the head table, including special guests, Major and Mrs. Henry Servais, Miss Lou Lawson of Jacksonville, Miss Anita Sulze, St. Louis, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brune, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Niccum, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Shadid, Misses Martha Lorton and Vera H. Seaton.

Russell Armstrong, president of the Alumni Association, was chairman and master of ceremonies for the evening. A business session was conducted and the following officers elected for 1949: president, Gerald Cook; vice president, Ila Mae Squires; secretary, Eleanor Butler; and treasurer, W. C. Brune.

Program Presented

A laugh fiesta program consisting of eight novelty acts was presented.

On arriving guests were met by Jean Wilding and James Ring, who presented them with "Cheerio" folders to be used in a Merry Mixer. A prize was won by Charles Summers.

The prize for the "Intellectual" event, making the most words from Good Fellowship, was won by Mrs. W. C. Brune and Frances Hem-brough.

Prince Nar-al-Din, of Bagdad, great Oriental sand diviner who answered questions for those present from the shifting sands of his native Arabian desert, was the guest of honor.

The turbaned mystic was portrayed by Major Henry Servais.

Contest Provides Merriment

Following the clever interpretation of the Arabian Prince, the big laugh event of the evening got underway—Babes in Blunderland. Three of the members of the class of 1948, Charles Summers, Bill Edlen, and Bob Spencer, were selected by chairman Dick Cruzan as babes and asked to choose their "mamas" from the audience. Three complete layettes were furnished to the mamas, Mrs. Perry Piper, Marjorie Hines, and Mary Virginia Tazewell, from which to dress the babes. Baby Spencer and Mamma Marjorie Hines were the prize winners.

"Pandora's Boxes of Wit, Wisdom, and Satire" was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Niccum. Climax of the party was the Battle of the Sexes in Song. General John Martin was in charge of the men. Generalissima Jean Wilding led the women. Miss Vera Seaton was the accompanist at the piano.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher today, cattle unevenly strong to 50 cents lower, and sheep strong to 40 cents up.

Good and choice hogs and gilts ranged from $21 to $21.75. The best price was $22. Weights above 300 pounds were missing. Sows took $18.50 to $19.75.

Best level in the cattle trade was $38.50 for a load of choice fed steers. Choice heifers topped at $43. Most good and choice steers made $29 to $37 and good heifers $26.50 to $30.50. Good beef cows peaked at $22, sausage bulls at $23.50, and weaners at $31.

A deck of high-choice slaughter lambs hit $25.75 followed by most good and choice at $25 to $25.65. Ewes topped at $23.25 on good westerns.

Total receipts included 15,500 hogs, 7,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 2,700 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 17.—(P)—An increase in selling pressure late today accentuated a slow decline in the stock market.

Losses ranged from fractions to around 2 points. Many issues which had held small gains for a while later moved to the minus column.

Trading activity picked up as offerings of stock became a little more insistent. Turnover for the day approached 1,000,000 shares, about even with yesterday's 1,060,000.

A flow of favorable corporation news, mostly in the dividend class, was more or less ignored. Disappointment over failure of a three-day rally to take hold influenced selling but in the main Wall Street's attitude was to wait and see.

Superior Oil of California dropped nearly 10 points to 150 at one time. Others trimmed included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, General Motors, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Central and Remington Rand (at new low for the year).

On the top side some of the time was International Harvester, Schenley, Eastman Kodak, American Tobacco, Gulf Oil, Texas Co., and Warner Bros.

Grain Prices Move Higher

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—The advance in grain prices moved right along today, despite some heavy selling on the way up. What took over the market's leadership as milling interests bought large quantities of December and May contracts.

Activity of mills reflected good flour business. December wheat sold at the best price since April while July and September reached new seasonal highs. Most selling appeared to be profit-taking as little hedging pressure was reported.

December corn touched a new high for the past four months. September corn and July and September oats made new seasonal highs. Continuation of the Longshoremen's strike on the northern Atlantic coast had little influence on prices.

The market opened slightly easier, picking its gains after the first hour's activity. Toward the close prices eased a bit, reducing the best gains.

Receipts were: Wheat none; corn 479 cars, 9 soybeans 23.

Wheat closed 1-1/4 higher, December $2.37, corn was 1 to 1 cent higher, December $1.44-1/4, oats were 1-1/4 higher, December 84-3/4, soybeans were 1 lower to 1 1/2 higher, November $2.63, and soybean meal changed to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $18.55.

East St. Louis Livestock

National Stockyards, Ill., Nov. 17.—(P)—(USDA)—Hogs $9.00; market active; barrows and gilts 50 to 1.00 higher than Tuesday's average; sows 50 to 75 higher; good and choice 130-240 lbs 21.75 to mostly 22.00; top 22.80; 250-270 lbs mostly 21.75; few 290-300 lbs 21.25; weights under 130 lbs too scarce to quote; good 400 lbs down 19.00-20.50; over 400 lbs 17.75-19.00; stages 16.00-18.00.

Cattle 4.00; calves 8.00; early trade slow; few medium and good steers about steady with Tuesday at 25.30-26.75; heifers and mixed yearlings opening steady; medium and good, 23.00-27.00; common around 19.00-21.00; cows dull; early action 21.00-22.75; weaners steady to 1.00 confined to canners and cutters at 15.00-16.50; about steady prices from 15.00-16.50; little done on beef type cows; bulls opening steady; medium and good higher; good and choice 28.00-36.50; common and medium 18.00-27.00.

Sheep 2.00; opening sales lambs strong to unevenly higher than Tuesday; few lots 25.25-50 to butchers; early packer top 25.00; most good and choice woolled lambs held at or above 25.00.

AP Scribe Picks Winners In Final Football Forecast

By Arthur Edson

Washington, Nov. 17.—(P)—This is the age of football specialization. It's an age when there's a man to kick extra points. And a man to hold the ball for the man to kick extra points.

So it's a relief to talk about Dick Poillon of the Washington Redskins. You might say he specializes in doing a little of everything, which brings us right back to the place where football started.

The Redskins play the Eagles in Philadelphia Sunday for the leadership of the eastern division in the National Football League.

And if there are any oldtimers in the audience, who can remember "way back when a football player wasn't considered good unless he was good in all phases of football, they will enjoy watching Poillon.

Poillon is a six-footer who weighs 197 pounds, and came to the Redskins via Little Canisius. He doesn't make the headlines as much as some of the specialists, yet in the average game he will:

Move into a defensive halfback position if the opposition gets pass happy.

Do all the team's punting.

Kick all the Redskins extra points.

Boot a field goal if their attack bogs down within field goal kicking distance. One of these, against the Pittsburgh Steelers, came with only 16 seconds left, and won the game for Washington, 17-14.

Carry the ball from either the halfback or the fullback slot.

Catch passes, a chore at which he is very fancy.

Block for other ball carriers.

All of which means he puts in a busy afternoon each Sunday, so busy that he's been the top scorer for the high scoring Redskins for three years.

Block for other ball carriers.

WISCONSIN WORKS ON PASS DEFENSE

Madison, Wis., Nov. 17.—(P)—Pass defense was given a long going over today as Wisconsin's Badgers ran through their last rough workout of the season.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher, whose club has won only a single Big Nine game this year, indicated he expected Minnesota to rely largely on its aerial game in the 1948 windup for both schools at Camp Randall Saturday.

Sending Michigan through its last rough contact scrimmage of the week, Oosterbaan had reserves throwing Ohio State plays at the varsity through most of today's long drill.

Halfback Gene Derriotte, flashing his old-time defensive form after a two-month siege with a knee injury, stood out in the workout as he battled down pass after pass.

The Wolverines will shift to an offensive tuneup tomorrow before showing off Friday in search of their 23rd successive victory.

Michigan Has Last Contact Workout Before Ohio Game

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 17.—(P)—Although the record stamps Michigan as the leading defensive team in the Big Nine, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan isn't willing to stand on the record as his unbeaten Wolverines prepare for Saturday's climax meeting with Ohio State.

Sending Michigan through its last rough contact scrimmage of the week, Oosterbaan had reserves throwing Ohio State plays at the varsity through most of today's long drill.

Halfback Gene Derriotte, flashing his old-time defensive form after a two-month siege with a knee injury, stood out in the workout as he battled down pass after pass.

The Wolverines will shift to an offensive tuneup tomorrow before showing off Friday in search of their 23rd successive victory.

Last week (and we would just as soon not mention it) we hit only .733 on our football predictions. The results, in case you're interested, were 25 right, nine wrong and one tie.

That .733 reading isn't our worst of the year, though,

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

THE STORY
Time, 1938. Place, New Orleans. Well-to-do Louis Durand, a lawyer, was on a correspondence course with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he had never seen. When she finally came from St. Louis to marry him, he was amazed to find her young and beautiful—entirely different from what he had been led to expect. Certain behavior of hers puzzled him from the first but not until a letter arrives from her supposed sister—Miss Russell's sister—does he realize the woman he married is an impostor. Before he can face her with it, she disappears with $50,000, withdrawn from his bank account. The police tell him he has no case as things stand. They advise him to go to St. Louis and get proof a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell.

XVII
THE CITY OF BATON ROUGE reached the St. Louis docks at 9 p. m., days later.

He emerged cityward of the pier shed, found a coach and, despite the advanced hour, gave Bertha Russell's address. He wanted it over, whether for best or worst; he wanted to know at once.

He couldn't tell much about the house from the outside in the gloom. It seemed large enough. It was in a vicinity of eminent cleanliness and respectability.

A woman of about fifty, or very close upon it, answered his ring. A tall, large-built woman.

She wore a dress of stiff black alpaca, a stringy white crocheted collar closing its throat and fastened by a carnelian brooch.

"Yes," she said on a rising inflexion, in answer to his question, "I'm Bertha Russell. Do I know you?"

"I'm Louis Durand," he replied gravely. "I've just arrived from New Orleans."

He heard her draw a sharp breath. She stared for a long moment, as if familiarizing herself with him. Then abruptly slanted the door inward. "Come in, Mr.

Durand," she said. "Come in the house."

SHE sat across the table from him. He could see her throbbing with a mixture of excitement and anticipatory fear.

"Now what can you tell me? What have you come here to say to me?"

"It's not what I can tell you," he replied. "It's what you can tell me."

"Very well, then. I can tell you this much. My sister Julia received a proposal of marriage from you, by letter, on about the fifteenth of April of this year. Do you deny that?"

He brushed away the necessity of a direct answer to that; held silent to let her continue.

"My sister Julia left here on May the eighteenth to join you in New Orleans." Her eyes bored into his. "That was the last I saw of her. Since that date I have not heard from her again."

She drew a long, tightly compressed breath. "I received an answer to one of my letters in a stranger's handwriting. And now you come here alone."

"There is no one down there any longer I could bring."

He saw her eyes widen, but she waited.

"Just a moment," he said. "I think it will save both of us time if we establish one thing before we go any—"

Then suddenly he stopped, without need of completing the sentence. He'd found the answer for himself, looking upward to the wall, past her shoulder.

It was a large photographic portrait, set in a cherry-colored velvet frame, of a head nearly life-size. The subject was not young, not a girl. She was not beautiful. She had dark hair, gathered at the back. . . .

Bertha had risen, was standing slightly aside from it, holding a lamp aloft and backward to it. "That is Julia. That is my sister. There. Before you. What you are looking at now. It's an enlargement taken only two years ago."

His voice was a whisper that barely reached her. "Then it was not she I married."

"Mr. Durand!"

HE extended his hand and pointed a finger; the finger switching up and down while it waited for his lips to gain speech and catch up to it. "That is the woman whose photograph I received from here. But that is not the woman I was married to in New Orleans on last May the twentieth."

"But Julia?" she persisted, just as though he were able to give her the answer. "Where's Julia, then? What's become of her? Where is she?" She planted her hands in flat despair on the table-top, leaned over above them. "I saw her off on that boat."

"I met the boat. It came without her. She wasn't on it."

"You're sure, you're sure?" Her eyes were bright with tears.

"I watched them get off it. All left it. She wasn't among them. She wasn't on it."

She sank back into the chair beyond the table.

They both had to face the thing. It was out in the open between them now. Not to be avoided, not to be shunned. It had come to this. It was a question of which of them would first put it into words.

She did.

"She was done away with!" she whispered. "She wasn't on it."

She shuddered as though some insidious evil presence had come into the room. "In some way, at someone's hands."

She shuddered again, almost as if she had the ague. "Between the time I waved her goodbye that Wednesday afternoon—"

He let his head go down slowly in grim assent. Convinced now at last, understanding the whole thing finally for what it really was. He finished it for her.

"—and the time I stood by the gangplank to greet her that Friday afternoon."

Will Raise Huge Fund To Repeal Taft-Hartley Act

Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—(P)—A proposal to raise three quarters of a million dollars to be used in the fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act was placed before the American Federation of Labor convention today.

The committee directing policy for "Labor's league for political education" suggested to the 650 delegate of the AFL's 67th convention that they finance an educational program with an assessment of 10 cents a member.

The total membership of the AFL on Aug. 31 was 7,220,000. The finance plan for the education program—dating from next month through 1949—was the result of meetings of the administrative committee of the political league.

The convention delegates were prepared to recess their own sessions today and assume the role of delegates to the labor league. By so doing they will be able to vote a financial contribution to the league without conflicting with provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act on political contributions.

The AFL leaders who planned the strategy did so to meet any legal problems arising under the act, despite the pledge of the convention and President Truman to wipe out the labor law.

Draft Report On Plan To Convert County Farm Into Rest Home

The committee which was appointed several months ago by the board of Morgan county commissioners to investigate the feasibility of converting the Morgan County Farm building into a convalescent home held its final meeting at the Dunlap Hotel Wednesday and drafted a report which will be submitted to members of the county board within the next ten days.

Dr. Vincent T. J. Lenth, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Orville N. Foreman is the secretary.

At the opening of the meeting Dr. Lenth submitted a tentative draft of the report which is to be made to the commissioners.

Estimated Cost Revised
A few changes were made in the original draft which included an estimate of the cost of repairing the building. This estimate was prepared by Harry M. Crabtree without cost to the committee.

The committee decided that the report be published in the Jacksonville newspapers after it has been delivered to the Morgan county board.

Dr. Lenth Thanks Members
Before the meeting adjourned, Dr. Lenth expressed his thanks to the members of the committee for the interest shown "in this civic project and for the time and effort you expended to bring the project to a successful conclusion."

Dr. Lenth, Mrs. Foreman and the members of the committee have spent much time on the project. Several of them visited convalescent homes in nearby counties and made a complete report to the committee. It was from these reports of the various members that the final recommendations to the county board were drafted.

MacMurray Drama Students To Give Play Nov. 25, 26

The Little Theater season at MacMurray college will get fully underway November 25 and 26, with the play "Craig's Wife" by George Kelly. The cast will include six MacMurray girls and four Illinois College men.

This play, awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1927, definitely established its author as a master of playwrighting technique. The two conflict scenes, one in the first act and one in the second, have served since that time as models in most of the drama schools in the country.

The role of Craig's wife is to be played by Eleanor Adams of Peoria, who played a prominent part in "Mexicomeddy." Al Hudson from White Hall, a junior at Illinois College, will play Mr. Craig. Mr. Hudson appeared as the doctor in "Blithe Spirit," the MacMurray spring production.

The part of Miss Austen, to be played by Jane Morrison of Moberg, S. Dak., will be a great contrast to the sophisticated Ruth which she played in "Blithe Spirit." Esther Wilding of Jacksonville is cast as Maizie, the maid who has a rather important part in the action. Miss Wilding was in a number of productions when she attended Jacksonville High School.

Howard C. Hansen has designed and staged the set to represent the Belmont Manor home of the Craigs. Tickets for the play will be on sale at Rogers School and Office Supplies store, 216 West State.
